FAIR TRADE MADE

by WOMEN ARTISANS

100% of Profits Paid to Artisans

At Earth Divas, fair trade is fundamental to everything we do. It is the basis of our business and our primary purpose for doing business. Our overall goal is to keep our expenses as low as we can, produce as many items as we can, and return all profits to the artisans that make our items. The more items we produce, the more families we employ in Nepal and India.

Today we work with just a few artisan groups, some of whom then work with other smaller groups. Each group has a speciality such as high end hemp handbags, less expensive hemp items such as wallets and coin purses, crocheted hemp items, and felted wool items.

WHAT IS FAIR TRADE?

Fair trade is a system that not only aims to pay fair wages, but also supports participatory workplaces, ensures environmental sustainability, supplies financial and technical support, respects cultural identity, offers public accountability, and educates consumers about the choices that they can make in their regular shopping habits. Fair trade businesses foster long-term and direct relationships with producers in the developing world, because they know these connections are a highly effective way to help producers help themselves. Fair trade is not about charity; it uses a fair system of exchange to empower producers and to create sustainable development.

I live in Dhapasi, Kathmandu but am from Tanahun District. I have two daughters studying in fifth and sixth grade. They are now big enough to take care of themselves thus it's easier now for me to concentrate solely on my work. I love what I do, and it helps me keep my mind and body occupied and busy.

—Shova Bhandari, Age 25

I am Tulsi Panthi from Chitwan District, currently living at Dhapasi, Kathmandu. I am married with two daughters and one son and have been working for eight years now. I have had my ups and downs in life and initially it was very difficult for us to adjust with the fast paced and expensive life in Kathmandu. But now with stable jobs for both me and my husband, things are normal and easier to handle than before.

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

In 2004 we started on this journey to create a seamless platform that connects talented artisans in developing countries with consumers in the U.S. with the goal of giving back as much as possible to the artisans who make these beautifully handcrafted works of wearable art.

Each year, we've made huge improvements in the way we do business and in the quality and design of our products. Our catalog this year reflects just how far we've come and showcases our best designs yet. And while we'll never stop improving, it's a great feeling to see these designs and realize just how far we've come. We hope you and your customers will love them as much as or even more than we do.

Thank you for supporting fair trade and the artisan community of Nepal, and hopefully in the near future many other countries. We'd love to hear from you regarding what we can do better and any design suggestions you have, because next year we plan to top ourselves again.

Many thanks and sincerely,

Ed Edmundson, President & CEO
